

SEARCH FOR TWO BRISTOL TOWNSHIP PRISONERS WHO DIG WAY OUT OF CELLS OF BUCKS COUNTY JAIL; FLEE OVER WALL TO FREEDOM BY USE OF IMPROVISED ROPE

Two Women Are To Be Questioned in The Case; Both Said To Be Former Inmates of Eastern State Penitentiary and Had Been Paroled

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 23—A search continues today for the two prisoners who dug their way to freedom from the confines of the Bucks County jail. The prisoners were found missing yesterday morning after they had been checked in at the 10 o'clock Saturday night inspection. Both of the prisoners were from the Bristol area, having been arrested in Bristol Township.

The missing men have been identified as hardened criminals and their names are given as: William (Cowboy) McMullin, 34, of Mascher st. near Lehigh ave., and Harry Bentham, 34, of Fifth st. near Jasper, both of Philadelphia.

Former inmates of Eastern State Penitentiary and subsequently paroled, the two had been committed to the Bucks county jail last August 2 to await trial on morals charges.

Two criminals escaped from the jail early yesterday by tunneling through a wall in their cell, reaching the courtyard and scaling the outer wall by means of an ingeniously devised "rope" made of bed sheets, a chain and a broom.

Prison officials said they would question two women, one of whom said she was the estranged wife of McMullin while the other said she was a sister of Bentham. Two women visited the prisoners Saturday and authorities said the are suspicious that some visitors may have aided the prisoners by giving them tools used in the tunneling process.

Warden Handy said McMullin and Bentham had supper Saturday night at 5:30 p. m. as usual and were checked in at 9 p. m. A second check at 10 p. m. revealed they were in their cells.

Some time during the night the two men dug a nine-inch hole through an 18-inch wall in back of one of the three beds in the cell. The hole was made at the point where the wall and floor joined. Thus was an easy task, the warden explained, because there was no concrete to penetrate. The walls are old and the plaster yields easily.

In their tunneling job the men used part of an iron bed, a piece of metal taken from a mop wringer, chisels and other tools. The latter could not have been obtained in the prison, officials said, leading them to believe the prisoners received outside help.

The men muffled their work by covering the tools with strips of bed sheets and were not heard by guards on duty about 150 feet away.

The tunneling completed, the two—weighing only 125 pounds each—crawled through and emerged in the prison yard.

Once outside they carefully avoided portions of the prison wall which

Auto Insurance Rates Are Increased in State

HARRISBURG, Oct. 22—Insurance Commissioner Artemas C. Leslie announced today that automobile insurance rates would be increased throughout Pennsylvania, effective today.

He said he had approved schedules calling for an increase of 30 per cent on property damage and 11.4 per cent on bodily injury for private passenger cars and 13.1 per cent on property damage for commercial vehicles.

The boosts do not apply to collision insurance, but Deputy Commissioner Ralph H. Alexander said increases in this type of coverage were "certain" to come soon.

Leslie explained that the nationwide experience of 61 large insurance companies for the 12-month period ended Sept. 30, 1950, resulted in a bodily injury ratio of 53.9 per cent and a property damage ratio of 51.8 per cent.

He said the loss ratio by quarters, starting with the last quarter of 1950 and including the first two quarters of 1951, was: Bodily injury, 62.2, 61.6 and 61 per cent; property damage, 60.1, 75.3 and 59.5 per cent.

BURGLAR SUSPECT TO BE GIVEN HEARING

Man Identified As Frank Phillips Will Be Taken Before Justice

ON THE BAKER FARM

FALLSINGTON, Oct. 22—A man identified as Frank Phillips, 28, New York, is scheduled to be given a hearing today on the charge of attempted burglary. The suspect assertedly tried to break into the farmhouse of Robert Baker, on the Fallsington-Tullytown road, Friday.

Police Chief Kirby disclosed he and two young men captured Phillips Friday after a chase across a field near the Baker home.

Baker's son, Warren, 26, and Donald Appenzeller, 27, of Makefield road, Fallsington, were husking corn near the farmhouse when they spotted a man trying to break through a front screen door, Kirby said.

They ran to another house nearby and telephoned Kirby, who said the would-be burglar had broken through the screen and jimmied open the door with a screw driver.

Verdict Directed by Judge When Case Hinges On Legal Point

WIFE DROVE THE CAR

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 22—Following a conference of an hour and a half in the Judge's chambers between plaintiff's counsel, Barrett G. Taxwsey, and defense counsel, Donald B. Smith, and Judge Fred W. Davis, a settlement was reached in a two-car automobile accident damage case which saved the jury from trying the case, because the husband owned the car and his wife paid some of the repair bill.

Judge Davis, who began the trial Wednesday afternoon, Friday directed the jury to render a verdict of $135 in favor of the plaintiff, Henry Bellardo, Fallsington, a garageman whose car was damaged while it was being operated by his wife, Marion, Feb. 22, 1950, on the Lincoln highway, in Falls township. The defendant was Edward J. Fowler, Trenton, N. J., who never had to testify concerning his part in the accident which happened on an icy road.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Escapee Identified as Hold-Up Man

Allentown—One of two men who held-up the watchman-night clerk of a fruit store at 12th and Tighman streets, here, this morning at four o'clock, has been positively identified as Harry Bentham, one of two men who escaped from the Bucks Co. prison at Doylestown during the week-end.

Identification was made by Charles Z. Lewis, this city, watchman at the market of David Moses. Lewis states that two men stopped at the market, one asking for a bottle of chocolate milk. As Lewis turned to get the milk, he states that the second man grabbed him (Lewis) by the arm and told him to make no outcry. When Lewis called out he was struck on the head by a blunt instrument, and something pushed against his ribs. The two men scooped up $40 and fled in a car.

After being taken to Allentown Hospital to have three stitches taken in a head wound, Lewis sometime later, when shown photographs, gave positive identification to the photo of Bentham as the one who had struck him on the head. He was unable to identify the second man as McMullin.

Three Stage Hold-Up at Morrisville Airport

Morrisville—Oct. 22—Two men and a young woman today held up the Morrisville Airport and fled in a blue convertible automobile toward Philadelphia.

Other details of the robbery, including possible loot, were not immediately disclosed by State Police at Langhorne.

The alarm sent over police radio wires said one of the men was wearing a blue air force uniform and that the girl, a blonde, wore a dark green coat.

The car was a 1948 model bearing Connecticut registration plates, according to the police alert.

Although N. A. Hortman, manager of the airport, states there was a robbery of the restaurant at the airport during the night, he denied that there had been a hold-up. However the police dispatcher in this borough, confirmed the fact that fliers are out for the trio alleged to have staged a hold-up.

Mrs. Leslie Angus Addresses Bucks County Council of P. T. A.

AT FEASTERVILLE

Mrs. Irvin Buckman Tells How To Use Music In The P. T. A.

FEASTERVILLE, Oct. 22—"The P. T. A. is the public relations department of the schools," said Mrs. Leslie Angus, first vice-president of Southeastern district, Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers, when she spoke on "The Background and Preparation of P. T. A. in Your Community" at the fall assembly of Bucks Co. Council of Parent and Teacher Associations, held Saturday in Lower Southampton elementary school, here.

"A P. T. A. program should be so vital no one can afford to miss a meeting. Sixty per cent of the adults in this country have no connection with any school. It's up to the other forty per cent to get busy and educate the community to its duty to the school," she added.

Mrs. Stanley Blinn, Newtown, county treasurer, spoke briefly on treasurers' procedure, and reminded local treasurers that state and national dues must reach her by November 20th if the local association hopes to be eligible for gold leaf award for a 10 per cent increase in membership.

At the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Alvin Pratt, Morrisville, president of Bucks County Council, the following nominating committee was elected: Raymond Ivins, Feasterville; Mrs. Lloyd Bucher, Pennell; Mrs. Stanley Blinn, Newtown; Mrs. Irvin Thompson, Warminster; Mrs. George Ungerer, Northampton township.

At the afternoon session, Mrs. Irvin Buchman, Doylestown, county music chairman, spoke on "How to Use Music in Your P. T. A." She informed: "There are four ways to use music—in the opening or closing exercises; as part of the program; during the social hour; and in a study group."

Mrs. Charles Schultz, Warminster, county study group chairman, gave the following suggestions for starting a study group. "Have the president appoint a study group leader who in turn will call the first meeting. The meeting should be small, 12 to 18 members being a desirable number, so that everyone can take part in the discussion." Mrs. Schultz, who was trained at a special course given by the state P. T. A. congress, is study group organizer. She requested that every local unit organize a study group, and asked that the name and address of its leader be sent to her.

The registrar reported 86 in attendance, representing 18 local units in the county.

Bracken Post Cadets Arrive Home Tired But Happy

The Bracken Post Cadets pulled in from Miami Saturday evening shortly after eight o'clock. They were given a rousing welcome by members of the Post, their relatives and friends. A crowd gathered in front of the Post Home as the mothers of the Cadets prepared a welcome home meal for them in the Post headquarters. There was a blowing of horns and cheering as the two big buses slid into the curb, and the emergency truck of Goodwill Fire Co., No. 3, turned on flood lights.

A big banner, reading "Welcome Home, Cavaliers," was stretched across the front of the Home, and lights blazed inside.

Mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and sweethearts threw arms around the Cadets as they stepped from the bus. They were a little weary from the long ride, but soon relaxed as they gazed at the feast prepared for them. All were enthused over the trip and their experiences. Upon one thing they all agreed and that is that they will never forget the trip.

Those who were at Miami say that the Cadets did themselves high honor. They performed well, behaved well, and were royally entertained. They just missed winning first honors by a narrow margin and they were up against exceedingly stiff competition. In fact they competed against the pick of the nation and came out third.

NEMETH WAS HIRED

Interesting consequences were foreseen if Ernest E. Nemeth, the University of Denver football player who brought legal action to collect disability pay for a gridiron injury, succeeded in getting a favorable ruling from the Colorado State Industrial Commission. Now he has won such a ruling.

A referee has found that Nemeth was hired to play football and is entitled to pay because of the time lost as a result of his injury. He has decided that Nemeth is entitled to $13 a week from June, 1950, when he underwent an operation for his injury until his disability ends.

Nemeth's suit revealed the University of Denver in a role now occupied by many American colleges and universities. According to Nemeth—and the referee has upheld his contention—he was a hired athlete. The University of Denver has therefore been adjudged the possessor of a paid football team.

The referee's decision can be appealed, but as of today a so-called institution of higher learning has had a label placed upon it that may well concern many another college that has been subsidizing football players. Many a parent will also be concerned at what such colleges are teaching by their example when they pay their players to win them gridiron glory.

Americans for Democratic Action propose that all "liberals" join hands. Trouble would be to keep the reds, pinks and mauves from clashing.

Congress has been asked for an additional $1,700,000 to defray the cost of checking the loyalty of government employees. This would be approximately six-hits a head, or expensive whitewash.

Multiple births are increasing. This growing rate of income tax exemptions may worry the bureaucrats.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

(By Courier Staff Member)

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol June 4, 1903. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

LOWER BENSALEM—The trolley company has moved the switch opposite Mr. Reynolds' property and placed one in the locality of the Eddington school house.

ANDALUSIA—Torresdale Park was a drawing card last Saturday, it being the opening day. The scenic railway, carrousel and bowling alley still hold first place as attractions. Nature has, with her handiwork, made the spot very beautiful.

LANGHORNE—Miss Helen Randall and Miss Susan W. Gilliam were elected delegates to the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Carlisle in October, and Mrs. Harry B. Tomb and Mrs. Byron Cowan elected as active members at the last meeting of Sorosis.

LANGHORNE—A delightful innovation in the programme for Decoration Day at the Bucks County Country Club was the pony show participated in by the children whose parents were members of the club. A prize was offered to the prettiest decorated cart with field flowers only, which was won by Laura E. Parry; also a ribbon for the best driven pony, Miss Austin, of Eddington, capturing the latter. The carts were all very tastefully and beautifully decorated, the bright happy faces of the children adding much to the beauty of the outfit. Several trial trips were made before a decision was reached. George K. Johnson, Harry B. Thomas and George P. Schober acted as judges.

FALLSINGTON—John T. Fish has purchased the residence belonging to the estate of the late Joseph Brown, which he has been occupying for several months.

YARDLEY—The Board of Directors of the Yardley High School held their annual meeting in the school house on Monday evening for the purpose of reorganization. Those present at the meeting were T. S. Cadwallader, E. E. Yeager, John Immswiler and R. F. Livezey. The following offices were filled for the ensuing year: President, B. F. Livezey; secretary, E. E. Yeager and treasurer, T. S. Cadwallader. Thomas Bock was elected to fill the position of principal, Miss Weeks as teacher of the secondary, and Miss May Purcell as instructor in the primary department.

In about two weeks two handsome new summer cars will be put upon the Bristol-Morrisville trolley road. The cars are Brills' latest design and are ten feet longer than the big ones used at present and will seat forty-four people.

During the dry weather the trolley stirs up a cloud of dust on Radcliffe and Mill streets and so provoked have become the annoyed housekeepers the subject is being agitated of petitioning council to limit the rate of speed with which the cars go through Bristol, unless the streets are sprinkled in some matter. It is claimed if the cars are run slowly much of the nuisance will be avoided.

The following persons have been elected to membership in the Algonquin Club of Bristol: Max Hoffman, Claud Harris, Harry B. McMullen, Henry Lovett, Tullytown; Howard McMullen, S. T. Valentine, M. J. Lincoln and M. G. Snively.

Mr. Wilson's work has been chiefly among the soldiers of the United States Army, and he possesses many testimonials concerning his helpful labors in the hospitals, prisons and morgue.

The first boatload of coal that has been shipped from Mauch Chunk via the Delaware Division canal since December, 1901, was consigned to W. F. Leedom, the Bath street dealer, on Thursday, May 28th. This has been followed by additional shipments.

ed the car and his wife, Marion, paid $120 of the repair bill by a check which she made out herself the husband couldn't recover.

The case was further complicated because the checking bank account is a joint one and in the names of the plaintiff, Henry Bellardo, and his wife, Marion.

The husband, who paid part of the repair bill, can't claim a complete loss when he didn't pay the full damages of $203.19, the Court ruled. Although the garage business is operated under the name of Lincoln Garage, the bank and checking accounts are jointly held and Bellardo testified that he is the sole one who earns money and puts it in bank. He testified he owns the cars but that his wife drives them.

Good Night, Darling!

Bedtime without Teddy Bear? Unthinkable! To young ladies like Nancy, toys like Teddy are just as important as shoes and hats and dresses. And, as any parent knows, toys keep rising in price just as much as clothing.

But don't blame the stores for the rising cost of raising your family. Blame the dollar! In terms of what it will buy, the dollar is worth less today than ever before.

The dollar is making things tough for us in the telephone business, too. Costs of supplies and equipment keep going up and up. We don't buy teddy bears, of course... but we do buy telephone switchboards, for example. And the board that cost us $637 in 1940 now costs $1,485. That's an increase of 133 per cent.

In spite of all this, we have been able to provide good, low-cost telephone service that continues to grow in value day by day.

Even if it should cost more, telephone service... in comparison with other things... would still be a big, big bargain.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Pennsbury District
Capt. Chester Hughes, of the Trenton (N. J.) police force, speaking on juvenile delinquency, addressed the senior class, Pennsbury High School, Wednesday.

Every day Hughes deals with the problems of boys and girls under the age of 18. He says that it is evident that parents either refuse to understand or cannot understand the problems of "teen-agers."

Hughes feels "our aim in studying juvenile delinquency is to make good citizens of all 'teen-agers.'" To increase understanding of "teen-agers' problems, the police try to speak in all schools on juvenile delinquency. In Trenton, the hope is not to bring the child to court but to help him adjust himself to society. Organizations for youth have already been formed.

When a child is in trouble, the police first investigate home and school backgrounds and try to solve problems outside of court. If a delinquent is taken to court, he is examined by a court psychologist, and the court then bases its conclusions on the psychologist's report.

BUSY TIME FOR SQUAD
Bucks Co. Rescue Squad members had a busy schedule over the week-end. Among the calls answered were the following: Mrs. Brown, Tyburn road, Fallsington, to Trenton, N. J., General Hospital; David Blythe, Lavender road, Edgemoor, to Abington Hospital; Scott Campbell, Mansion street, to Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia; and William Milow, Andalusia, to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia. The latter was injured when he fell Saturday at a Bensalem township school. He bruised his head, and has a possible fracture of the right leg. X-rays are to be taken.

These team captains, as well as their workers, have been soliciting residents and small businessmen who, prior to the workers' visit, have received advance literature on the hospital campaign through the mail. This literature includes an explanation of the six-payment plan, on which the prospects are further enlightened by the workers at the time of solicitation. This plan enables the prospective subscribers to give the once-in-a-life-time hospital building fund the

WHITFIELD LEADS BENSALEM TEAM TO 19-13 VICTORY

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 22 — Bob Whitfield, brilliant quarterback of the Bensalem Township High team, led his mates to a 19-13 verdict over the Pennsbury Falcons, Saturday afternoon, on the Robert Morris field.

It was the first Lower Bucks County League triumph for the Owls and the second loss for the Falcons. The defeat practically eliminated Pennsbury from the league race as they also have played a tie.

Whitfield, in making a strong bid for a berth on the All-Lower Bucks County team, scored a pair of touchdowns within four minutes of the second period and then crossed the goal-line in the final session after Pennsbury had tied the score.

Pennsbury was first to score in the sea-saw battle as in the initial quarter, Mickey Bray recovered a Whitfield fumble on the Bensalem 30. Jack Sands helped by making a first down on the 17. A 15-yard penalty set the Falcons back to the 32 but on the next play, Hal Briggs aerialled a pass to Hal Powell for a touchdown. Norman Borden place-kicked the extra point to make it 7-0.

Coach George Jarmoska's minions held Bensalem scoreless until four minutes remained in the second quarter when Whitfield started his one-man show. A fumble by Mickey Bray was recovered by Uslin on the 9-yard line. Arnold and Whitfield made four yards to bring the ball to the five but a bad pass from center was recovered by Pennsbury on the 22. But on the first play, there was another fumble with Dick Gloyd recovering for Bensalem on the Pennsbury 21.

A 15-yard pass, Al Parker to Whitfield, put the ball on the 6. It took three plays but the Owls scored with Whitfield going over. A pass, Carl Arnold to Whitfield, scored the conversion point to deadlock the count at 7-7. A pass interception by Uslin set up the stage for the second touchdown for Coach Marlon VanHorn's team. The interception was on the 30-yd. line of Pennsbury. Parker gained nine yards around end and Whitfield made a first on the 19. Parker then whipped a pass to Whitfield for the touchdown. Russ Struble place-kicked the first try for the extra point but the play was nullified by a penalty. A pass on the second try failed but the Owls had a 13-7 lead.

Pennsbury deadlocked the score in the third quarter on a fine run by Mickey Bray. The Falcons had reached the Bensalem 4-yard line when a fumble by Briggs was recovered by Jim Bristow. Bensalem was forced to kick. Whitfield's boot going to the 44 where Bray picked it up and went the distance for the TD. When Borden's attempt for the extra point fell low, the count was tied at 13-13.

Pennsbury lost out on another score because of a penalty. Sam McIntyre fell on a Bensalem fumble on the Owls' 23. Bray on an off-tackle slice went to the 11 and then Bray went over on the following play but an off-sides penalty set back the Falcons, they finally losing the ball on the 5.

Late in final session, Bensalem scored. Whitfield had thrilled the crowd with an excellent run to the Pennsbury 30 but the Owls lost the ball on downs. But Jim Bristow again gave Bensalem possession by recovering a fumble on Pennsbury's 45. Arnold picked up seven yards on two tries and Whitfield made a first on the 22. A pass, Al Parker to Whitfield, was completed on the 10. After Arnold lost two yards, Parker again completed an aerial to Whitfield who stepped out of bounds about six inches from the goal-line. Bob went over on the next play. Struble's place-kick for the extra point was blocked.

Bensalem had 10 first downs to Pennsbury's 8.

Search for Two Who Dug Way Out of County Prison

are electrified. They walked from the north end to the south wall, which is not electrified, and sealed it with what prison officials described as the "most ingenious device" ever used at the prison.
Five bed sheets had been knotted together. A piece of chain, torn from a window ventilator, had been made fast to the end of the sheets. This contraption was tied to a prison broom by inserting the chain through holes at the end of the broom handle and fastening it. Some of the tools also were fastened to the broom as weights. It was pointed out that McMullin was a wood-worker and Bentham a carpenter.
The prisoners threw the contraption over the south wall. The weighted end hooked under a ledge. The men climbed to the top of the wall, reversed their "rope" and reached the outside. They left the contraption hanging on the wall.
Eating breakfast Sunday morning is optional with prisoners at the prison. When McMullin and Bentham failed to appear for breakfast at 7:30 a. m. yesterday, Guard William Garrett looked in Cell 28 and thought they were asleep in their beds.
After breakfast, when the prisoners went into the yard for exercise, the contraption was discovered. A nasty check revealed that McMullin and Bentham had made dummies from pillows and blankets in their cell.

McMullin was paroled from Eastern State Penitentiary in June, 1946, after serving part of a 10-to-30-year sentence for armed robbery. He was re-arrested in 1947 for violation of his parole and was re-paroled in 1950.

Bentham was paroled July 24, 1948, after serving part of a seven-and one-half year sentence for armed robbery, larceny and conspiracy.

The two were arrested on morals charges last July 31 in Bristol township, where they were working.
